CAMPBELL HATRICK AND MALCOLM -MOORE BACK TO WINNING WAYS.

The early qualifying heats saw Karim Haman take the initial advantage with 3 smart wins on the bounce and strong performances coming in from David Manuwa and Jacques D'Monte it was clear that the cadets was much more than the Bailey Campbell and Vincent Souillat show.

Those two had 2 outstanding face offs in the qualifying heats with honours even, Vincent winning a well crafted victory in heat 12 whilst Bailey sped to victory in heat 14, to set up the final grid of Haman, Campbell, Roberto Ferreira, Manuwa, Souillat and d'Monte, all with a realistic chance of winning.

As the lights went green, Haman was caught napping by the ever speedy Campbell, who shot around the outside on the first corner and began to pile on the pressure straight away.

There then followed a 10 lap war of attrition for second place, with Haman having to defend his position against a variety of drivers as they queued up to have a go, which left Haman in hopeless position regarding the flying Bailey Campbell, up the road and looking likely to take a hat trick of wins.

The ever changing third place position was held by 5 different drivers over the course of the race, but almost inevitably it was the large frame of Vincent Souillat who came through to take third on the penultimate lap, and hold on the finish, ending the race stuck to the back bumper of Karim Haman in 2nd place, but the winner Bailey Campbell, could have stopped for refreshments on the last lap, such was his lead.

RACE REPORT RD 6

The junior section saw a couple of newer names coming to the party in the shape of Joshua Boyce, with 2 good wins early on, and the emerging consistency of Alex Douglas, but in the end it was the ever dependable Rasaan Malcolm-Moore heading the leaderboard with 33 points, whilst the chasing pack was made of Siphon Manzi, Kori Angus having a good day, and Boyce on 30 points.

From pole position Malcolm-Moore was unlikely to be headed if he made the first corner in one piece, and the relief was tangible as he swept into an early lead chased by Manzi and Angus, but the man on the move was Micheal Iacovou.

Starting from grid 7, Micheal disposed of Alex Douglas and then came up against the one man road block, Shane Scott. It took a couple of laps to wrestle 5th spot away from Shane, but once he got past him, Iacovou set about the lead group starting with Josh Boyce, sent spinning at the hairpin down to 8th place.

He was now fast running out of laps, but Kori Angus was relieved of third place and Siphon Manzi looked shaky in second place, Iacovou ranging in on his back bumper and slipping into 2nd place expertly.

All this excitement was lost on Rasaan Malcolm-Moore, and we saw once again the battles for 2nd and 3rd place allowed the leader to build a huge lead, and he rolled it
